

---

CALL FOR INTERNSHIP APPLICATIONS
Cold War History Research Center at HAS
Corvinus University of Budapest
Academic year
2018/19

The Cold War History Research Center Budapest seeks students from any field interested in the 20th Century and/or Cold War history, open to an international working environment, for substantive, research-centered internship positions. Now we call for applications for the period between November, 2018 and August, 2019.

Possible tasks for interns:

- Gathering knowledge on 20th Century Hungarian, East European and Cold War History, included conducting research for professional background of TV programs (documentary films). (Research in libraries, archives and online databases.)
- Facebook-post writing and raising our website's awareness through our social network
- Editing and developing the Center's website www.coldwar.hu (including compiling chronologies, bibliographies and other research aids) and cataloguing its library
- Translating to English and/or proofreading
- Eventually team-leading of common projects, taking part in the event organization of the Center and helping to hand in applications for international tenders

Current research projects:

- A Chronology of the Soviet Bloc, 1945–1991 (Main project for 2009–2018)
- Bibliography of New Cold War History
- So-called “On this day” project at our Facebook profile
- The Collapse of Communism and the End of the Cold War, 1988–1991
- East-Central Europe and the German question
- Hungary and the East-West relationship and Hungary's relationship to the countries of the
- Soviet Bloc
- The history of the Warsaw Pact

Required language skills: English is a must, any language of the Eastern-European region is a plus, Hungarian is an asset.

Payment unfortunately cannot be provided by the Center but we can guarantee flexible working hours! The internships, however, are eligible for scholarship funding from the European Union. Please contact your university's ERASMUS or other international coordinator, career service or try to arrange other ways of funding if required.

NEW: We are able to organize your internship in a corresponding form as well!

If you are interested, please contact to our acting research coordinator, Valeria Puga Alvarez at coordinator@coldwar.hu. Please include: an up-to-date CV and a cover letter specifying areas of interest and/or expertise. Kindly indicate information on projected time frame and duration of your internship and if you wish to take the opportunity to work for us in a corresponding form or in a traditional way.